Does “Public Charge” in the Immigration Process Apply to Me? Not If You Are:

- A Citizen
- A Legal Permanent Resident
- A Refugee
- An Asylee
- A T-Visa Applicant
- Applying for or holding a U-Visa
- A self-petitioner under VAWA
- Applying or re-registering for TPS
- An Afghan and Iraqi Special Immigrant
- A Special Immigrant Juvenile
- An Individual Granted Relief Under:
 - CAA, NACARA, HRIFA

Additional categories of immigrants are exempt. The final rule maintains these exemptions. This is a partial list for informational purposes only.

What Does This Mean for My Family?

- The federal government does not access public benefits systems for immigration enforcement.
- Information you’ve shared for public benefits is ONLY used for eligibility determination.
- It is important that you continue to receive the support that helps your family be healthy, fed, and secure in your housing.

What is the New Public Charge Rule?

Updated: August 2019

The White House Administration published a final rule that expands the definition of “public charge” used during the immigration process. A “public charge” is someone that is likely to become primarily dependent on the government for support. The list in yellow below details which programs the federal administration now considers when making a determination.

Public Charge and Public Benefits: What Does This Mean?

The programs in the green box are NOT considered in the public charge test. Please continue to use the programs that support your family.
